DATA REVIEW (Meeting 2)
7.21.22 Agenda

I. LOOKING AT DATA WITH PURPOSE (10 min)

During today's session, we will facilitate small group conversations about the world that our students are emerging into and the ways in which we - drivers of our education system - can prepare them for the future. We will then take a look at data we are collecting to see whether we have the right measures in place to know if we are successful.

Small Group Check In: What is your favorite summer time memory as a kid?

III. WHAT DO WE KNOW TODAY? (60 min)

Directions: In level small groups, choose a data set to review using the following protocol. As you listen to each other's interpretations, ask questions that help you better understand each other's perspectives.

<ul style="list-style-type: none">- What do we see?- How is it represented?- Who is represented?	<ul style="list-style-type: none">- What does the data suggest?- What are the assumptions we make about students and staff?- What does the data suggest about how well RIH is preparing students?	<ul style="list-style-type: none">- What does this mean for our work?- What steps can be taken next? What else would you like to see happen?- What other data/information would be helpful?

Reflection Question: How does this data provide insights or answers into how well we are preparing our students for the future? How might we engage with our stakeholders to build a deeper understanding of their experiences, needs and hopes for RIH?

IV. DEBRIEFING AS A WHOLE GROUP (30 min)
