FROM THE PRINCIPAL

The theme for Catholic Schools Week 2023 is “Faith. Excellence. Service.” These three pillars are embodied in our daily activities at Beckman Catholic and are also reflected in our mission and vision statements. Our faith radiates from the center; we work to embed the faith into all that we do, as we work to be disciples today and saints for eternity rooted in faith and reason. Embedding faith and reason is critically important as they go together like peanut butter and jelly, or as Saint Pope John Paul II more eloquently stated, “Faith and reason are like two wings on which the human spirit rises to the contemplation of truth.” We also strive for excellence academically, spiritually and physically in the fulfillment of our mission statement through activities both inside and outside the classroom. When our students do their best in the classroom, at a FFA or science contest, on the wrestling mat or playing in an honor band or choir, they are working to demonstrate excellence. Finally, we work to instill a service/servant attitude in our students, helping them to see how we are all called to care for and help those in need not only in our local community, but globally as well. None of this is possible without the prayers and support of so many others who allow us to continue to provide a Catholic education. We are forever grateful for your giving of time, talent and treasure!

I want to thank those volunteered to serve in a ministry role as well as to our staff members and those from Xavier elementary who spoke at Masses in the Spires of Faith Cluster to kick off Catholic Schools Week. Student government continues to have activities planned for the week Mass on February 1st, dress days all week and our annual academic awards ceremony on Friday, February 3rd at 8:30 AM. Thank you to Mr. Lueck and Student Government for their leadership and coordination of the week's activities. Once again, may God's blessings be on those who make Catholic education possible!

ESA Update

We continue to work on preparations for families and students to be eligible for educational savings accounts for the 2023-2024 school year. Included with this month's newsletter is a document that provides information and answers to some of the details we know or don't know at this point. We are also going to make that a live document on our website. As we get updates on information, we will then update that page so you have the latest details. The Iowa Department of Education has also created an ESA website where they are posting information and updates. On the DE's ESA page, you can also provide your email address to receive updates as the department has them. To sign up for updates, please visit <https://educateiowa.gov/pk-12/education-savings-accounts>

Also, if you know of families that are interested in having their child or children attend Beckman Catholic, please encourage them to come take a tour. YOU are our best recruiters and ambassadors! We'll also reach out to families who are interested. If you know of someone who'd like to attend Beckman Catholic, please contact Joan Hinerichsen at catholicschoolrocks@gmail.com and provide us with contact information, or let families know they can contact Joan to set up an appointment.

Annual Parent Survey—your input is needed and appreciated!

We continue to work on the implementation of our strategic plan and the next phases of this program. A key part of strategic planning is an annual survey where we received parent feedback. We've done this twice since starting strategic planning and this year have revised and shortened our survey. To make this informational meaningful and useful, we need your input. Please complete the survey located at: <https://forms.gle/mDQthqJxY3EbYdQ6> We would ask for your responses to be completed by Friday, February 17th. Once those results are in the committee and board will review these with a summary to be provided by our April newsletter. Thank you in advance for taking the time to complete the survey and for your input!

2nd Semester Parent-Teacher Conference Dates

2nd semester parent-teacher conferences will take place on Monday, February 27th and Monday, March 6th from 3:30 to 7:00 both evenings. We will continue to use a sign up for 5 minute timeslots as this has been working well. Please know that if you feel you need more time than 5 minutes, you are welcome to sign up for more than one time slot. Watch for more details and the signups by mid-February.

Apprenticeship Update

At the January board meeting, the school board approved an agreement to launch our second apprenticeship program with Fareway. Starting in the fall of 2023, interested students will also be able to participate in a meat cutting apprenticeship. This will be open to students who are at least 16 years old and are juniors. We are working on finalizing details with Fareway as well as with Boone High School, Fareway's partner for some of the online coursework for this program. We will have informational meetings later this year with additional information for students and families.

Greenhouse Update

We are officially up and running in the greenhouse! Science research students began working on their projects in mid-January after our volunteers and contractors finalized items to allow us to begin growing plants with the heat, lights, and water. We will have some additional work to do as the weather warms to finalize items, but we are operational. We again thank Rob Blush and everyone at Farm Tek for their help and generosity in making this a reality, along with everyone who has donated time, talent, and treasure to make the greenhouse possible.

Winter Weather Information

So far we've had just two days of cancellation of classes and a couple of late starts. With the two days we've missed, those will be made up on April 6th and April 10th. Any additional cancellations will result on the make-up days being added to the end of the school year. A reminder that delays and cancellations will come from Western Dubuque. Beckman Catholic will send out text messages and emails from our system after we get notification from Western Dubuque. If you have not been receiving Beckman Catholic text message notifications, please be sure to enable that feature on your phone. To receive messages from school, please text "y" or "yes" to 67587.

Host Family Search

We have been fortunate to have a number of foreign exchange students at Beckman Catholic over the past several years as well as families willing to host students. We are again looking for individuals interested in serving as host families for the 2023-2024 school year. Students that come to study at Beckman speak English, have medical and liability insurance, and are also provided with spending money as part of their program. Host families also receive a $500 tuition credit for their own family plus a stipend for expenses from the exchange student hosting organization. Exchange students typically arrive in mid-August and return home at the end of the school year. Please contact me if you are interested in this opportunity, as we have students interested in attending next year.

STO Update

Once again, I would like to personally thank everyone who contributed to the Our Faith STO program. A record amount of funds were raised this year which is great news. The amount of money contributed--including those who restrict a portion of their donations to Beckman Catholic--is of great benefit to our students and families. A reminder that you can now pledge your donation and fulfill that prior to the beginning of December 2023 to ensure you receive a tax credit for your donation. More information is available at www.ourfaithsto.org

STO applications for the 2023-2024 school year are now available for completion. Please be sure to have your application submitted by April 15th. This year's process for applying for STO will be very similar to last year and you do need your 2022 tax information to be completed in order to file the STO application. Please see the flyers attached to the newsletter for additional information.

We are awaiting further guidance on whether families who qualify for the ESA program should also apply for STO. While we wait for that information, it's a good idea to continue to work on gathering and preparing your documentation so you are ready for one or both programs.

CURRICULUM SCHOOL REPORT

Course Updates and College Credit Opportunities:

Course guide updates will be shared with parents at our registration meeting on February 9th at 6pm. Emphasis during our registration meeting on February 9th will be on the discussion of graduation requirements, freshman required courses and recent changes to classes at Beckman Catholic.

Beckman offers courses through NICC including: Composition I, Composition II, Macroeconomics, Public Speaking, Engineering, Animal Science, and Psychology. Additionally, Beckman offers courses through Mount Mercy University in Theology 12 and Religions of the World. Beckman also offers a NICC articulated course in Crop Science. Beckman offers advanced placement courses in American History, Calculus, and English Language. Students have the potential to earn college credit while at Beckman in all of these courses.

New classes include our updated Mentoring class that second semester juniors and seniors can take. The Mentoring program will be a credit program that will allow students to use their 7th and 8th hour class time and work with area businesses.

Beckman has also teamed up with Farm Tek and created the first private school apprenticeship program in the state of Iowa. We will go over the details on how to enroll in the apprenticeship program at the February 9th meeting.

FROM THE NURSE

Beckman High School will sponsor their annual American Red Cross blood drive on Tuesday, February 28th, 2023. Please call the office to schedule a time to donate blood or go online at RedCrossBlood.org to schedule an appointment. Donate blood in February for a $10 Gift Card by email, thanks to Amazon. A high school senior will receive a scholarship. The amount of the scholarship will be based on the number of units of blood collected at the drive. Iowa Law states that 16 year olds can donate with patient permission. Permission forms are available in the office.

The Iowa Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) announce the launch of a multi-platform, multi-audience messaging campaign aimed at educating parents and young Iowans about the dangers of counterfeit pills and fentanyl. You may have already seen these commercials. The State of Iowa Department of Health and Human Services also developed a conversation guide. This conversation guide can be downloaded from the Your Life Iowa website.

More and more younger Iowans are experimenting with pills to feel better, help them study, ease social anxiety and more. What makes this especially dangerous is that fake pills with deadly levels of fentanyl are being found nationwide, even here in Iowa. That's why it is so important to talk to your kids.

Fentanyl is a synthetic opioid that's 50 times stronger than heroin. It only takes 2 mg of fentanyl to be deadly. Drug cartels are mass producing fake pills and falsely advertising them as real prescription medications to trick young people. Cartels often put fentanyl in these pills because it's cheap and highly addictive. Help your child/children be aware of some ways they can say no to drugs. Here are some excuses....

Teens can say no to drugs by giving an excuse, such as:

1. I can't stay; I've got to help my dad/mom with something.
2. That stuff makes me sick.
3. I'm supposed to meet so and so in a few minutes.
4. No way. I think you just want me to get in trouble.

5. That stuff is so bad for you.
 6. Why would you use that junk?
 7. Haven't you heard about the kid in the news who died from doing that?
- Teens can also just be honest with their friends:
8. I'm not into that.
 9. My mom would kill me if she found out.
 10. I don't have time for drugs.
 11. I'd be suspended from the team.

Help your child create an exit plan. Together with your child, pick an emoji or code words that can text you if they're pressured to take a pill that isn't theirs. Then you can call them and tell them you need to pick them up, giving them an out with their friends. Being proactive is part of the protection so don't be afraid to have this discussion.

SCHOOL COUNSELING NEWS

Iowa Board of Regents votes to make ACT, SAT testing optional for admission to Iowa Public Universities.

The Iowa Board of Regents unanimously voted January 12 to make the ACT and SAT optional in the state for admission to ISU, UI, and UNI. The tests first became optional due to the pandemic, but that change will now be permanent. Students applying to Iowa's three public universities—Universities of Northern Iowa, University of Iowa, and Iowa State University—will no longer be required to take one of the standardized tests.

The universities will still use the Regent Admission Index, which combines an Iowa resident student's high school GPA, the number of core college prep courses completed with an ACT or SAT score to determine admission, according to Rachel Boon, Board of Regents Chief Academic Officer but an alternative pathway will now be available to make decisions without ACT or SAT scores.

Boon said that the BOR's Admissions Study Team found that the ACT tests have "some value in predicting a student's college GPA, but ultimately had a limited relationship to the likelihood of a student college graduation."

Nationally, many universities have decided to make the ACT or SAT test scores optional, and Board of Regents members agreed that following this trend keeps Iowa Regents Colleges competitive with those colleges.

Mrs. Boon added, "The decision isn't about devaluing the ACT, but more about recognizing the different options for admissions."

Private schools in Iowa may still require an ACT or SAT scores for admission and many schools, including Iowa Regent's schools still use the ACT or SAT scores making decisions about scholarship awards, so there are reasons for students continuing to take the ACT or SAT, if not for acceptance to Regent's or other colleges and universities.

Scholarship opportunities for members of Class of 2023

A listing of current scholarship opportunities for the members of the Class of 2023 can be found on the "Beckman Homepage" on the web under the "Students" tab, click on scholarships. Updates to this page are made almost daily now, or as soon as I receive the scholarship information. Paper copies of scholarship applications are available in the Counseling Office in the "Scholarship File."

Spring ACT Test Dates

The ACT will be given at Beckman on Tuesday, April 4, beginning at 8:05 AM. The fee for this "in house" ACT is $50.50, payable on or before the test date. Spring dates for testing at other sites, and at a higher fee are:

Saturday, April 15 (Registration deadline, March 10)

Saturday, June 10 (Registration deadline, May 5)

Saturday, July 15 (Registration deadline, June 16)

Course Registration for 2023-2024 School

On February 9, 2023, course registration for the 2023-2024 school year will begin with a 6:00 PM meeting for parents of current 8th grade students. This meeting, conducted by Assistant Principal Steve Lueck along with School Counselors Amanda Antonelli and Allan Eckeman will focus on the various options to prepare students for a 4-year college, 2-year College, apprenticeship, or the workforce. Parents will receive information on course offerings in each department, information about honors classes, AP Classes and dual credit (courses offering both high school and college credit). There will also be explanations of required and elective courses, as well as expectations for a typical "student load" for each semester as well as an explanation of 230 credits required for graduation.

After meeting with 8th graders, counselors continue work during February with current 9th-, 10th-, and 11-graders until all students have selected courses for 2023-2024.

During registration, current juniors will have the opportunity to enroll in courses that award dual credit (high school and college credit) for the 2023-2024 school year. Dual credit courses currently offered by BCHS include College Composition I and College Composition II, Macroeconomics, Psychology, Public Speaking, Animal Science, and Religions of the World. College credit is provided by Northeast Iowa Community College and Mount Mercy University and transfer to most colleges in Iowa for required or elective credit when students begin their college enrollment.

Some of the dual credit classes, such as Composition I, require a minimum ACT Score (19 on the English portion) or a minimum score on the “Accuplacer”, a placement test provided by NICC.

Loras College Offers “Right at Home” Pizza and Social for Beckman 9-12 Students and their Parents.

Loras will be hosting an event for nearby students and families on Sunday, February 5th, 5:00-7:00 PM. This is an opportunity for students to learn more about Loras College and their study abroad and May-term destinations offerings.

Attendees will also hear about the numerous internship opportunities Loras cultivates with local companies. These connections often lead to full-time employment before graduation, with Loras graduates enjoying a 98% placement rate.

In addition to the student and parent discussion panels, families can choose to experience an evening tour and a campus Mass in Christ the King Chapel. Both are optional but it's a way to see and meet more of the Loras community.

Loras offers generous financial aid awards with 100% of students receiving some form of grant or scholarship aid. Admission representatives will be on hand to discuss those opportunities.

VOCAL MUSIC NEWS

Footloose* is the spring musical at Beckman Catholic High School. This musical is based off the 1984 hit movie, Footloose. The story tells of a boy named Ren moving from the big city to a small town. Many of his “big city” ideas don’t sit well with the town included Reverend Moore. In Bomont, dancing and music have been outlawed. Ren plans to change that. What ensues is a great show of dancing, lessons, and fun.

There will be live performances March 24th through 26th on the stage. Sunday’s performance will be altered to a different day due to confirmation.

Honor Choir

Four students were nominated and chosen to participate in the Meistersinger Honor Choir at Wartburg College on January 22nd and 23rd. The four students that were nominated to perform at this honor choir were Judith Williams, Teresa Braun, Evelyn Sadler, and Emerson Kramer. There were over 900 students that were nominated throughout the Midwest for this honor choir. During the honor choir, students were able to work with the composer of the music that they performed as well as take part in a private lesson if they chose to do so and stay overnight on campus.

MUSIC IN OUR SCHOOLS MONTH

Did you know that March is Music In Our Schools Month? To celebrate, we will be having a vocal music concert featuring the Beckman Catholic Choirs, the Xavier Elementary Honor Choir and 6th-12th band on Thursday, March 2nd. What better way to show our pride and support for music education than to gather and enjoy the music of our students! The concert will begin at 6:30 p.m. in the Beckman performance gym and will be livestreamed.

Students in grades 9 – 12 are encouraged to participate in State Solo & Ensemble Festival on Saturday, April 1st.

Students interested in participating will prepare a piece or two of standard choral literature in their individual voice lessons, perform that selection at the festival and receive comments and a division rating for how well they sang. This experience helps strengthen their musicianship, performance confidence, and further develop their musical training. Registration deadline is March 1.
