Parent Involvement/Conduct Code

Parent-Coach Relationship:

Should you have any concern, do not approach the coach immediately at the conclusion of a contest or practice. Call or email the coach at a later time with your concern. If necessary, schedule a meeting to discuss the matter privately.

- A. Typical concerns of parents that are appropriate to discuss with a coach are:
- Any unhealthy mental or physical strain you detect in your child at home
 - How you can contribute to your child's skill improvement and development
- B. Typical concerns of parents that are inappropriate to discuss with a coach:
- Playing time
 - Team strategy or play calling
 - Other student-athletes

Cooperation, communication, and support among coaches, athletes, parents and school personnel are essential if students are to realize the values of educational based athletics. Like coaches and athletes, parents must make commitments to assure the success of the athletic program and to ensure that the athlete has a positive and enriching athletic experience.

Expectations of Parents:

1. Accompany my child to as many orientation and informational meetings, athletic contests and special events as my schedule will permit.
2. To assure my child will attend all scheduled practices, games, special athletic events and team meetings.
3. Promptly having my child picked up at the conclusion of practices and games.
4. Refrain from making negative statements about the coach or other team members in front of my child. (Doing so may inhibit your child's ability to improve.)
5. Help my child deal with adversity with dignity, be gracious in defeat, humble in victory and always treat others with respect.
6. Encourage my child to set and work toward individual and team goals.
7. Be a positive role model for my child at all times.
8. Remember that my involvement and support is vital to my child's academic and athletic success.
9. Understand that in order for my child to participate, I must go over rules and guidelines with them, as well as both of us signing and dating an agreement form for the coach.
